

Dutch Belgian Haptics Network Meeting Friday March 27th, VU University, Amsterdam (room MF G-613)

9:30-10:00	Coffee
10:00-10.45 Keynote	Astrid Kappers	VU University	Haptic perception of shape and space
10:45-11:00	Coffee
11:00-12:30	Karl Lambrechts	Maxon Motors	Haptic & Actuator motor - How to get the maximum out of it.
Talks	Anouk Keizer	Utrecht University	Multisensory processing & body size experience in anorexia nervosa
	Sergio Portoles	KU Leuven	Robotic Autotensioning System for Laser Surgery
	Myrthe Plaisier	VU University	Visual and haptic size cues in the size-weight illusion
12.30-13.15	Lunch	Sponsored by Maxon Motors
13.15-14.30 Demos / products / posters	Katinka van der Kooij / Krista Overvliet	VU University	Reinforcement motor learning
	Wouter Bergmann Tiest	VU University	Inside vs. outside
	Winfred Mugge	VU University	Haptic guidance needs to be intuitive not just informative to improve human motor accuracy
	Diederik van Lith	Heemskerk Innovative Technology/UTwente	"Saptic"
	Irene Kuling	VU University	The (un)predictability of visuo-haptic and haptic-haptic biases
	Arno Jonker	MOOG	Simodont dental trainer
	Anouk Keizer	Utrecht University	Oculus rift whole body illusion
	Thijs Roebbers	EFI (Endoscopic Force-reflecting Instruments)	Haptic feedback for minimal invasive surgery
	Emmanuel Vander Poorten	KU Leuven	Haptic guidance for catheter steering
	Myrthe Plaisier	VU University	Visual and haptic size cues in the size-weight illusion
	14.30-16.00	Jeroen Wildenbeest	TU Delft
Talks	Irene Kuling	VU University	Delays in admittance-controlled haptic devices make simulated masses feel heavier
	Henri Boessenkool	FOM instituut DIFFER	How to improve human-in-the-loop teleoperated maintenance execution?
	Tricia Gibo	TU Delft	Discovery of movement strategies during training via haptic guidance and observation
16:00-16.15	Coffee
16.15-17.00 Keynote	Frans van der Helm	TU Delft	4D EEG: A new method to investigate the activity of the sensory motor cortex in motor control
17:00	Best Demo Award	Sponsored by MOOG
17:10- ..	Panel discussion		The role of industry in haptic research
	Drinks	Sponsored by Maxon Motors
